Spring Updates at the Lab

Spring has arrived early at Wood Hudson and many amazing developments are ahead! Dr. Joseph Bruns is planning an exciting research program and preparing for the summer UREP program. Additionally, we continue to make important improvements to our facility. Recent upgrades include enhancements to our electrical service, safety signage, fire suppression equipment, and alarm systems. These improvements have strengthened our infrastructure to help us continue our cancer research initiatives and education in 2025.

Exciting Grant Announcement – Eagles Grant

Wood Hudson Cancer Research Laboratory just received a $5,000 grant from the Fraternal Order of Eagles. This funding was made possible through Barbara Heck, Southeast Central Regional President of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. It included a $2,500 contribution from local sources matched by the national organization. We are incredibly grateful for this support along with all our generous foundation partners and donors.

Flying Pig Marathon Partnership & Piggest Raffle Fundraiser

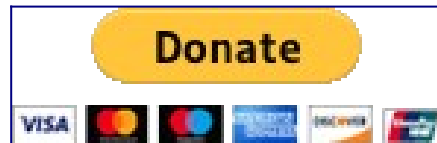

Wood Hudson is once again a proud partner of the Flying Pig Marathon. As part of our fundraising efforts, we are selling Piggest Raffle Ever tickets, with all proceeds benefiting the lab. 100% of each $5 raffle ticket purchase goes directly to us which gives you a chance to win up to $5000 for yourself and $5000 to Wood Hudson. Your participation helps us continue our critical work, including much-needed infrastructure updates to improve safety and efficiency at our facility. Purchase your tickets online at Piggest Raffle Ever, or use the QR code shown here, making sure to select Wood Hudson Cancer Research Laboratory as your charity. We have a limited number of paper tickets available at the lab. Also, if you are running in any of the events, contact Denise Byrum at denisebyrum@woodhudson.org for a discount code.

Undergraduate Research Education Program Application Process Opening Soon for Summer 2025

The application period for our summer Undergraduate Research Education Program (UREP) will begin soon. UREP provides students with hands-on experience in research, and includes a weekly seminar program with guest speakers. This year, Dr. Joseph Bruns is thrilled to partner with the students, providing mentorship and guidance as they gain valuable research experience. Look for a SPECIAL EDITION eNews for more details on eligibility and application deadlines.
