

Even Before Detection, It All Starts With Research

Greetings!

In order to keep you fully updated of the discoveries happening in our labs and with the Undergraduate Research Education Program, we are sending you our electronic news letter. Thank you for your on-going support in our work toward the conquest of cancer through research.

Get Informed- Get Inspired- Get Involved

For 35 years, Wood Hudson has made tremendous advances in cancer research. We are the only non-profit cancer research institute to have the largest comprehensive Bio-specimen Repository Center outside of major medical centers. Our Repository houses over 2 million tissues, reflecting over 60,000 cancer cases.

We invite you to come and learn more about the progress we are making in cancer research and with our Undergraduate Research Education Program, which trains future scientists and physicians in biomedical research.

UREP Students In The News

Mariaha Dooley, UREP Research Associate and Stefan Marasligiller, UREP student prepares vials for research project.

Evan Birmingham and Rachel Bender working on their cell culture experiment while Nick Auten and Alexandra Wright observe.

Grace Restle

WoodHudson's Undergraduate Research Education Program (UREP) gives college students advance to work one-on-one with our scientists and research assistants doing biomedical research. Besides the laboratory work, each week the class meets for Journal Club. Journal Club entails discussion of a chapter students are assigned to read in their text book, Principles of Cancer Biology. Each week a different student discusses a chapter relevant to their project, as well as a recent publication on that subject.

Pictured is Grace Restle, a UREP student who attends the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Grace presented a discussion of "Cancer Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment". This topic focused on some of the current practices of cancer treatment from surgery and chemotherapy to gene therapy and molecular targeting.

Wood Hudson a Recipient of Front Yard Makeover Through Mix 94.9

Wood Hudson Cancer Research Laboratory was a recent recipient of a front yard makeover, courtesy of Mix 94.9 Cincinnati and Natorp's. The makeover, part of a contest entitled Plant It Forward, was opened to non-profit organizations in the Greater Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky area. The contest encouraged individuals to nominate a non-profit organization by completing an online application through the Mix 94.9 website. Entrants were asked to write compelling reasons why their non-profit deserved this makeover.

“We are so excited to have been chosen for this makeover,” said Dr. Julia Carter, President of Wood Hudson Cancer Research Laboratory. She went on to say “As a smaller non-profit cancer research institute, our resources for other items outside of cancer research are very limited. Getting this makeover not only enhances our front entrance, but also adds beauty to the neighborhood. We are so thrilled to have been chosen.”

Employees of Mix 94.9 and Natorp’s spent much of a Tuesday morning planting shrubs, flowers, evergreens, pulling weeds, and spreading mulch. Wood Hudson thanks Mix 94.9 Cincinnati and Natorp’s for this front yard makeover and for being a part of our mission of working toward the conquest of cancer through research. Click here to see pictures of the day.
